

Home-Office Equipment and Security Policy

Equipment eligibility and allowance

This policy supports employees who have an approved flexible-work arrangement. It complements the Employee Policy Handbook and does not independently grant remote-working days.

Policy point	Mock policy detail
Eligibility	An employee becomes eligible after the manager approves a recurring flexible-work arrangement and records it in the team schedule.
Equipment allowance	An eligible employee may claim up to AED 1,500 once every 24 months for approved home-office equipment.
Covered items	Covered items include an external monitor, keyboard, mouse, headset, ergonomic chair, or laptop stand used for company work.
Prior approval	The employee must obtain written manager approval before making a purchase. Approval confirms business need but does not override the allowance limit.

Practice fact: the home-office equipment allowance is AED 1,500 once every 24 months for an employee with an approved flexible-work arrangement.

Remote-work information security

Employees must protect company information wherever they work. These controls apply during every approved remote-working day and when traveling with company equipment.

Policy point	Mock policy detail
Managed devices	Confidential employee or customer information may be accessed only from a company-managed device with current security updates.
Secure connection	Use the company VPN when connecting through a home or public network. Public shared computers must never be used for company work.
Private workspace	Prevent household members and visitors from viewing confidential information. Use a privacy screen when the workspace is visible to others.
Incident reporting	Report a lost device, suspected credential exposure, or unintended disclosure to the service desk within one hour of discovery.

Practice fact: suspected loss or disclosure must be reported to the service desk within one hour of discovery.

Reimbursement and company assets

Approved purchases are reimbursed through the recorded expense process. Employees remain responsible for complying with expense deadlines and returning company-owned assets.

Policy point	Mock policy detail
Receipt deadline	Submit an itemized receipt and approval record within 30 calendar days of the purchase date.
Ownership	Any individually approved item costing more than AED 500 becomes company property and is recorded in the asset register.
No double claim	An expense may not be claimed under both the home-office allowance and another travel, wellbeing, or development benefit.
Return requirement	Company-owned home-office equipment must be returned within five working days after employment ends or when People Operations requests its return.

Practice fact: company-owned home-office equipment must be returned within five working days after employment ends.